

Resources

As a part of this site you can find resources I have / will collect over time. I am posting them here for my reference and also to share as others can benefit. Where appropriate, please do credit the source(s) if you borrow them for re-use.

Listed below you can find posts that fall into the general resource category, and separately you can find books I recommend or summaries from conferences or speaking.

Thanks for your interest, and your contributions are welcome!
